

CAMP RULES

We aim to operate as an all-age family, the older ones looking after the younger ones.

This works well, but every family needs its rules so they are being circulated in advance in order that everyone knows where they stand.

1. The basic rule is that we all, young and old, take trouble to be in the right place at the right time with the right equipment and Choristers do what they are told as quickly as they can.
2. Unless told otherwise, Choristers must stay within the area of Morland village bounded by the School, Campsite, Church and Morland House at all times. The beck is out-of-bounds. The campsite is out-of-bounds to everyone other than those Choristers or Staff whose sleeping accommodation it is or who are on duty there. The Village Hall similarly (except when rehearsals are taking place). Choristers aged under 18 should not walk through the village alone.
3. The Camp is a non-smoking area.
4. Choristers are not permitted dangerous or distracting articles. Chewing gum is heavily discouraged and is banned in the church or other public buildings.
5. Choristers must be considerate in their use of mobile phones, cameras and digital/social media. They must not be used during rehearsals, meals, services/concerts and other public events, or between lights-out and 7.00am. Photos/videos must not disclose spoken or visual contact details or personal information. Interaction with fellow choristers on digital/social media must follow the same principles of considerate behaviour as face-to-face interaction.
6. Parents and friends are most welcome to come on the first Sunday afternoon and see where the Camp takes place, and to attend the events on the Timetable marked for their attention. However, apart from this, any visitors to Camp must be agreed in advance with the Senior Staff, and they may not be invited to meals with the Camp. Morland Church remains open to the public.
7. Parking at Morland House is only available to Staff staying there. Any cars brought to Camp by Senior Singers may be used only by special arrangement with the House Parents.

The Camp's written policies on Equal Opportunities and Access, Equality, Diversity and Inclusion, Music and Churchmanship, and Safeguarding are available on our website.
